Miss Sabilia Phillips of Norwood, R. I., is a hundred years old. The Providence Journal says: "She lives alone, does all her own housework, saws wood for her own fire, and brings it on her back from the woods. She is a constant reader of the Bible and religious books, reads without glasses, and is ready at any time to preach a sermon upon any passage of Scripture, which she often does to those gathered around her. She is the last of her generation."

It is a triffe astonishing to hear that Tabor of Colorado neurishes presidential hope, means to put up his lightning rod in 1888, and will do it openly because he doesn't believe in darkhorse business. If he is elected we are told that "his present wife, who is a lady of versa-tile talents as well as marked personal beauty, would appear to great advantage in the White House." And she could then pay off the stuck-up Denver women who have been snub-bing her and making so much trouble lately.

"I know a man," General Comly said to a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter, "who had 18,-000 sheep on one of the Hawaiian Islands, for which he had been offered one dollar a head. He refused the offer, expecting to do much better with them; but there was a drought, and every sheep died for want of water. There was absolutely no possible way of saving them. There are places on the islands where enormous piles of bones mark the spots where cattle had been in the habit of drinking. The fountains dried up, and they perished."

Finch of Nebraska in a series of public debates, anywhere in Ohio, on the subject of the legal prohibition of the liquor traffic, Mr. French to favor prohibition and Dr. Lewis to oppose it. The union has received a letter from Dr. Lewis in which he agrees to meet Mr. Finch at three points in Ohio, and in conclusion he says: "I believe that the brave, noble temperance women of Ohio are sacrificing their divine cause in an attempt to win victory through an army of constables. I shall be glad to participate in such discussion, with the hope that I may help to turn the tide."

The poorer classes of the city of Mexico ri-

The poorer classes of the city of Mexico rioted Friday against nickel money. The riot arcse out of the refusal to receive nickel money at the city market. There were at first personal quarrels, then firing and a general cry of "Down with the nickel." All the business houses were closed at once, and the mob surged through the streets, smashing lamps and windows. The military were called out and fired blank cartridges at the rioters, and finally cavalry charged through the crowd several times. Order was finally restored without bloodshed.

SENATOR SARIN, chairman of the republica SENATOR SABIN, chairman of the republican national committee, is said to have a mighty reputation among the wild men of the frontier. The story is that on a train in the far West not long ago a big cow-boy stepped up to an inoffensive passenger, put a pistol to his head and roared out, "Now I've got you, blank blank you!" as if shooting would soon follow; thereupon the senator sprang upon the buily, took his wespon away and kicked him to the other end of the car. Since then Sabin has had a pistol battle trophy to show, and all frontiersmen have considered him a truly great statesman.

THERE is great excitement at Las Vegas, New Mexico, on account of gold discoveries, Gold was found in paying quantities on a lot at Hot Springs owned by a prominent resident of Topeka, Kan., by two miners who were excavating for a new court-house. The next morning they were staking out mining claims in the court-house yard, and now the hills and valleys around Las Vegas are swarming with gold seekers, many of whom meet with success. A company has purchased an interest in the court-house yard, and will try to develop it. The city is now a mining camp. Among the prospectors are several women.

At one of his lectures, recently. Dr. Erasmas THERE Is great excitement at Las Vegas

Ar one of his lectures, recently, Dr. Erasmus Wilson exhibited a woman thirty-eight years old, and five feet and five inches high, whose tresses, when she stood erect, enveloped her entire form in a golden veil and trailed several inches on the ground. The longest fibres measured six feet three and one-half inches. Thirty inches is the mean length of the hair of females, and three feet is considered of remarkable length. This instance, he said, was exceeded by two American women, one whose hair measured seven feet and six inches, and another, the wife of a druggist in Philadelphia, whose luxuriant bair was almost as long, and whose luxuriant hair was almost as long, and so thick that when seated on a chair she could completely cover herself with it.

"Sarah Barnum," the satirical biography of Sarah Bernhardt, written by her former friend, Marie Colombier, has been the cause of a duel between friends of the women and of a scandalous quarrel between the actress and the author. Sarah, incensed because she was described as a "She Barnum," asked the police to seize the book. The police replied that she must seek redress at the civil tribunal. Sarah, with her son, proceeded to Marie Colombier's residence and struck the author of the book in the face with her riding whip with her full force. Marie fled, pursued by Sarah, who smashed everything in her way. Meanwhile the friends of the women indulged in a free fight in another part of the house. It is stated that the affair will lead to a number of duels.

Two women hunters, the Chronicle of Vallejo, Cal., says, were recently encountered by a sportsman who had gone to an arterlan well in the Alvarado marshes to quench his thirst. They wore tunies extending to their knees, long rubber boots, hunting coats and caps, and carried breech-loading shotgans. At their feet lay a pile of teal, widgeon, and rail. They explained how they came to be hunters. One was extremely delicate, and after graduating at a well-known seminary in Almeda county, was recommended to take out-door exercise as the only escape from consumption. Tired of aimless strolling, the girl, under the kindly tutorship of her uncle, learned to shoot, and converted a companion to the sport, and both are enthusiastic hunters. They know the best duck passes in Almeda county, where snipe are to be found, the good quail cover, and seldom return without a generous bag.

Hon. A. S. Hewitt's Travels. Mr. Hewitt, a member of the national house of representatives from New York, has made a four months' tour abroad. He gives some pleas-ant reminiscences of what has been to him a ant reminiscences of what has been to him a very enjoyable and refreshing vacation. "We have been as far east as the Black sea. We visited France, England, Germany, Austria, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Wallachia, Roumania, and Bulgaria. The trip has been interesting and instructive. I have traveled over the Old Homeric fields that Ulysses trod. I have revived old memories of my classic training and recalled the days when I was a teacher and forced those associations on unwilling subjects. I have seen the whole of the Dalmatian and Albanian coast, been all through the isles of I have seen the whole of the Dalmstian and Albanian coast, been all through the isles of Greece, to Ithaca, where Ulysses was finally restored to his suffering country. We went to Corfu, and to Corinth, where we climbed the old citadel of Corinth. We went to Athens, and saw where St. Paul preached, and walked under the olive trees where Socrates and Plato discoursed philosophy. We went in a Greek steamer down the Argos. We went to Milo, where the famous statue of Venus was found. The London Standard remarks that the energetic American life insurance companies now actively competing with the home companies for business in England must moderate the liberality of their inducements. There are several points in their prospectuses which will according to the formula of the streets of Euripus, and visited the home of the Thessalonians, to whom St. Paul addressed his epistics. We visited the birthplace of Alexander the Great, and went to the foot of Mountain the streets of Euripus, and visited the birthplace of Alexander the Great, and went to the foot of Mountain the streets of Euripus and Visited the birthplace of Alexander the Great, and went to the foot of Mountain the streets of Euripus and Visited the birthplace of Mountain the streets of Euripus and Visited the birthplace of Mountain the streets of Euripus and Visited the borne of the temple of Apollo cover many acres. We went through the streets of Euripus, and visited the home of the temple of Apollo cover many acres. Mount Olympus. He went to see the monks of Athos, who have been established a thousand years, and within whose precincts no woman ever set foot. We went to the scene of the Siege of Troy, and saw the roins of at least two remote civilizations. We sailed along the shores of the Black Ses, from which now Great shores of the Black Ses, from which how Great Britain gets food as well as from us, and from whence ancient Rome fed itself, for it was the granary of the Romans. During all the trip, which was made largely in a private steamer, with leisure to study men and manners. I came to the conclusion that the greatest miracle of our time and the most valuable treasure which mankind has ever discovered is the which mankind has ever discovered is the Government of the United States, in which the checks and balances are so arranged that while progress is not only possible, but its results certain, the prejudices of popular passion are kept in check, and only those measures which are best calculated to promote the general welfare can by any possibility receive the sanction of legislation and of permanent public judgment. I come back not only proud of my country, but conscious, more than ever of the duty which rests upon every one of its citizens to preserve constitutional government in the form and according to the spirit of its conception and organization. It is the its conception and organization. It is the result not merely of the wisdom of our fathers, but of a fortunate chain of circumstances which never occurred before in the history of the world, and can by no possibility occur again. We are not a democratic mob, like the ancient democracy of Athens. We are not the ancient democracy of Athens. We are not a pure democracy, such as the French people vainly imagine they have established, in which the republic was built upon the plebiscite of ignorance and passion. But, we have a federation of independent democracies expressing their will and maintaining their interests, not only in proportion to their numbers as represented in the lower house of congress, but as the peers of each other in the senate, and in the executive department we are regulated and limited by a tribunal whose judgment must stand the ordeal of public opinion and conform to the recognized principles of justice and law. No other country has such a government, but just as they approach to the principle. ment, but just as they approach to the princi-ple of free representative government, which we have secured, do I find the people of other countries to be prosperous and contented."

Our Daily Bread.

Heavy and sour bread or biscuit have a vast influence, through the digestive organs, upon the measure of health we enjoy. How important to our present happiness and future usefulness the blessing of good health and a sound constitution are, we can only realize when we have lost them, and when it is too late to repair the damage. And yet, notwith-standing these facts, thousands of persons in standing these facts, thousands of persons in our own city daily jeopardize not only their health, but their lives, and the healths and lives of others, by using articles in the prep-aration of their food the purity and healthful-ness of which they know nothing. Perhaps a few cents may have been saved, or it may have been more convenient to obtain the articles used, and the housekeeper takes the responsi-bility and receible will never know the misbility and possibly will never know the mis-chief that has been wrought. Pater familias may have spells of headache. Johnny may lose chief that has been wrought. Fater familias may have spells of headache. Johnny may lose his appetite, Susie may look pale; if so, the true cause is rarely suspected. The weather, the lack of out-door air, or some other cause, is given, and the unwholesome, poisonous system of adulterated food goes on. Next to the flour, which should be made of good, sound wheat and not ground too fine, the yeast or baking powder, which furnishes the rising properties, is of the greatest importance, and of the two we prefer baking powder, and always use the Royal, as we thereby retain the original properties of the wheat, no fermentation taking place. The action of the Royal Baking Powder upon the dough is simply to swell it and form little cells through every part. These cells are filled with carbonic acid gas, which passes off during the process of baking.

The Royal is made from pure grape acid, and it is the action of this acid upon highly carbonized bicarbonate of soda that generates the gas alluded to; and these ingredients are so pure and so perfectly fitted, tested and adapted to each other, that the action is mild and per-manent, and is continued during the whole time of baking, and no residue of poisonous ingredients remains to undermine the health, no heavy biscuits, no sour bread, but if directions are followed, every article prepared with the Royal Baking Powder will be found sweet and wholesome.

MOTHER SWAN'S WORM SYRUP,—Infallible, tasteless, harmless, cathartic; for feverishness, restlessness, worms, constipation.

ONLY Two BOTTLES.—Messis. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrheure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both the officers and the wife of a weil known U. S. A. general had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

HUMOR IN THE STOMACH.—Much of the dis-tress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhosa and other causes is occa-sioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cared by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used, secures the confidence of the people.

A CLERGYMAN, whose life was almost a bur den to him, from a long course of suffering he had undergone, through that dreadful disease, catarrh, traveled through the East, seeking from the old and skilled doctors of Arabia, some remedy for this terrible disease. He was fortunate enough to come across one, who was fortunate enough to come across one, who prescribed for him, and who, after he was cured, gave him the recipe, which has since saved so many. The reverend divine, on his death-bed, bequeathed the recipe to a friend, who is willing to send it free of charge, to all sufferers who desire it. Address, J. Lawrence, 250 Schermerhorn St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
